

MASONRY AND THE CHURCH.
A Lively Discussion in the General Synod of the Reformed Church.

The members of the General Synod of the Reformed Church in America, now in session in the Jerome Street Church in Brooklyn, yesterday eagerly resumed the discussion of the memorials from different classes throughout the country asking the Synod to take some action condemnatory of Freemasonry and other oath-bound secret societies. The Committee on Overtures, to which the various memorials had been submitted, had reported against taking any official action for or against Freemasonry, yet the report declared that no minister of the church ought to unite with or to remain in any society or institution, whether secret or open, whose principles and practices are anti-Christian, or contrary to the faith and discipline of the church.

The Rev. C. Broot said that perhaps there was a little nonsense about Masonry, but even he did not believe this. He pleaded for toleration and liberty.

Elden Floyd Clarkson of New York opposed any action in the church. He had been a Deacon for many years, and had taken the third degree in Masonry, but he never saw anything objectionable in it.

The Rev. H. Clark said that the Synod should not be scared by the threats of the delegations who intimated that they would leave the church if any action was taken.

The Rev. Peter Lepelot, who said that the anti-Masonic movement was a great one in the West, said the Synod should not be too hasty in taking any action, as it might affect a substitute for the report of the committee a resolution that the Synod should earnestly warn its members not to unite with any secret Masonic order and similar associations as inconsistent with Christianity and enjoin upon them the duty of abstaining from joining such an order in this matter, and preserving, if need be, by discipline, the purity of the Christian profession.

The discussion was carried down by a large majority. The discussion is to be continued to-day. The members of the Holland (Mich.) and other delegations who had been present were very conciliatory, and they threatened to split if the other secret orders are further countenanced.

Trunk Line Managers in Session.

A special meeting of the General Time Convention of the trunk line Presidents, for the purpose of carrying out the action decided upon by the trunk line Presidents at their recent meeting, General Manager Robert Harris of the New York, Lake Erie and Western Railways presided, and Mr. W. P. Allen, General Manager of the New Haven, and Mr. Wm. Morehouse and Ohio in running fast through trains between Baltimore and western points; the representatives of the Pennsylvania, the New York Central, and the Erie in this competition on Baltimore and Washington business, this summer, will be compelled to run their trains through some of their fast trains from New York. This request was allowed. The trunk line Presidents at their recent meeting, however, voted to reduce the rates from Chicago and New York should be reduced. In accordance with this vote, it is expected that the effect that at 5 P.M. each day an express train of cars should leave Chicago, which should arrive in New York at 10 A.M., and at 10 P.M. via the Pennsylvania road, and at 10 P.M. via the New York and Erie. The arrangement is to take effect Sunday June 13, the change made in time to take us from New York to Chicago.

The Murder of Mrs. Mangano.

The autopsy made yesterday on the body of the woman found dead at 22 Mulberry street showed death to have resulted from fracture of the skull produced by a blow. There were wounds in the scalp and marks of compression around the throat. Death was the result of a blow from behind, and the blow was delivered by a boarder in the Mangano's home, dropped from the bosom of the dead man's arms. It was subsequently learned that the Mangano's son, dropped from the bosom of his mother, had been killed by a German named Guglielmo himself on yesterday. He combines the rank of publisher and author, and is at present employed as porter in a publishing house at 21 Mulberry street.

A man was so straight forward in his statement that all suspicion of his being concerned in the crime was removed, and it was determined that Mangano's son, who was born in Italy, had been imprisoned seven years in Italy, to afford him a man.
